My name Michelle Bauer and I am a part of the MI village at St. Clare of Assisi Catholic Church in Acworth, GA, taking on the Moderator role in March 2026. I have been a part of the village for about a year. I am newer to the MI, having consecrated to our Blessed Mother in May 2025, but it has been amazing to find the MI village at St. Clare. I also serve as a Eucharistic Minister. I was raised Catholic, receiving my baptism, first communion, and confirmation at St. Stephen Catholic Church in Miramar, FL. I attended Barry University, a Catholic university in Miami, Shores, FL where I received a bachelor's degree in Finance and Economics and a masters degree in Finance. I currently live in Acworth, GA and work in Atlanta, GA at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) for 15 years as a compliance examiner for banks in Georgia and South Carolina. I also teach one of the core schools for new examiners, a two-week class to teach lending regulations. Prior to living in Atlanta, I lived in the Tampa Bay Area in Florida where I worked in banking for 15 years, in several position from teller to branch manager. While living in the Tampa Bay Area, I also volunteered on the Homeowners Association Board and served as President for two years. My husband and I also currently own a home in Ave Maria, FL where my husband lives as he works with the Fire Department in Naples, FL.

Ever since joining the MI, I have learned so much about the MI and the Catholic faith that I has led me to this point where I feel the Blessed Mother calling me to do more and am excited to serve the MI wherever I can assist.
